Message from the head of the Overseas Department

Tenrikyo 173, September 26

Thank you for all of your daily efforts in your various areas and positions.

The extreme summer heat has finally dissipated and it has suddenly become very autumn-like in Oyasato. Today's Service, being on a beautiful Sunday, attracted many followers from all over the world to return and worship single-heartedly in the Service, with the Shinbashira as the core.

The Shinbashira, in his prayer, said "while looking closely at the confusion of this world, beginning with myself, head ministers and yoboku, we should have an eye towards the future. In order for God the Parent to show us the Joyous Life world, we should continually put efforts into the overseas mission."

He also mentioned, "This month is the month of putting strong efforts in spreading the fragrance. The last three days of the month will be the All Tenrikyo Nioigake Days and the truth of the teachings will be spread all over the world."

Lastly, he prayed, "The path will widen as time passes. Please guide us so that we may live in the Joyous Life even a day sooner. "

The monthly sermon was given by Honbu-in, Rev. Yoshimi Maegawa. The reverend, talked about a doctor passing away for rebirth at age 32, and who wrote the book titled, "To Asuka, & to my unborn children". In the book, there's a section called "obviously," and they talked about their illness and troubles. He talked about his own illness and about his role as a guardian, citing verses from the Ofudesaki and Osashizu.

He also wanted to point out how grateful we should be to feel "atarimae." It is due to God the Parent's strong intention that we are here today. To respond to this parental heart, Rev. Maegawa said it is important to follow the path of repayment for blessings and to exert one's sincerity to the utmost truth.

As was mentioned in the Prayer, from the basis of bearing in mind the overseas mission of the path, let us do our best in repaying the intention of the Parent during the three days of the All Tenrikyo Nioigake days starting from the day after tomorrow.

Moreover, many followers from overseas will return for the Autumn Grand Ser-

September Monthly Service Prayer

Before You, God the Parent, Tenri-O-no-Mikoto, who resides in his shrine, I, (Michihito Hamada, bishop of the Mission Headquarters of Hawaii) pray with reverence.

God the Parent, as Your overflowing warmth, which grants us daily the free use of our bodies, embraces us, we advance toward spiritual maturity as we strive toward the realization of the Joyous Life world receiving the guidance of the Ever-living Oyasama. These boundless blessings are truly more than we can expect. As we direct our constant focus toward the teachings, we proceed in high spirits toward the path of sincerity applying our effort with a mind focused on salvation. Today is the day we are granted to conduct the September monthly service at this mission headquarters. The service performers will unite their hearts to perform the seated service and Teodori joyously in high spirits. Today, as you view the brothers and sisters of the path who have looked forward to this day singing the songs of the service in unison with hearts filled with gratitude for Your parental love, we hope that You can be spirited as well.

On August 20th, the 40th annual bazaar was held and we were blessed with many attending. Also, on September 6th, 60 people participated in the All Tenrikyo Hinokishin Day on the island of Oahu.

Let us as Yoboku ponder on the many grievous events, which we have been shown throughout the world, as the reflection of the dust in our minds, and remembering not to misuse the mind we are freely allowed, we vow to proceed spiritedly in accord with Your intention toward the path of world salvation. May You, God the Parent, accept our sincerity, and we ask that you guide us toward reconstructing the world where we can spend our days living in harmony by helping one another. Together with everyone present, I pray for these blessings.

“On the Way to the Final Goal”

At this time, together with all of you, we have joyously completed the September Monthly Service and I would like to express my heartfelt gratitude for this. Today, I have been assigned to deliver the monthly sermon and although there may be places that may be difficult to understand, please bear with me for a short while.

Today’s topic is Chapter Eight of the Doctrine titled, “On the Way to the Final Goal.” Today’s translation is being done by Colin Saito.

Chapter Eight, “On the Way to the Final Goal,” teaches about receiving guidance through illness and troubles and while listening to the teachings of God the Parent, we begin to put into practice the Divine Model of Oyasama and show our spiritual progress.

First of all, allow me to read the first part of Chapter Eight. “ (page 58, paragraph 3)

“Our minds, however, are ever changeable. Our minds in the morning are not always the same in the evening. We are affected by events that occur around us, and our minds, bright in the morning, may become darkened by evening. Though once deeply moved by the teachings and determined to be devoted, in time our joyful and bright spirits may wane. There may also be times when, despite having been saved by divine grace, we falter because of some new illness or other troubles. In such circumstances, however, our path of faith is always to reflect on our minds, to understand that all occurrences are from the will of God the Parent, and to live with joy and brightness without allowing our spirits to fall. This way of settling the mind is taught as tanno.”

Upon receiving an illness or trouble and when our hearts become unsettled, at such times, to always reflect on our minds and come to regard the knot as the intent of God the Parent, without giving up, while nurturing a mind of joy and to live cheerfully, is definitely not an easy thing to do.

Luckily, in Hawaii, there are many ministers who have faith in God the Parent and have followed the Divine Model of Oyasama. Upon being assigned the topic “On the Way to the Final Goal,” the first thing that crossed my mind was 69 years ago, December 7th, 1941, the time right after the attack on Pearl Harbor, when our predecessors were detained and then shipped out to the mainland internment camps. It is impossible to talk about the whole story of life at the internment camps in such a short time, but focusing on just a fragment of the suffering experienced by our predecessors, I would like to share with you some data along with my thoughts and feelings.

In the book, “The 50 Year History of Tenrikyo Hawaii Dendocho (Mission Headquarters),” allow me to read the part where the names of the missionaries who were detained on the mainland were written. First of all, beginning with head ministers; Sakujiro Ueno, Matagoro Mikuni, Hidékichi Nakamoto, Kaneki Honda, Masayuki Iwata, Kinzaemon Odachi, Hikojuu Takemoto, and Miyuki Kawasaki. Next, successors to head ministers; Naoichi Seto. Then, heads of missions, Manabu Yama, and Shozaemon Masaki. Next, spouse of head minister Ryosaku Kawasaki. And finally, church director Ichiro Genseki. These were the people who were arrested. At the churches, the authorities came and the prosecution began by confiscating doctrinal materials and prohibiting missionary work.” In addition, Kinzaemon Odachi of Hilo Church, due to an illness, passed away at the age of 56 while in detention at the Santa Fe Camp in New Mexico.

Life in the detention camps must have been very miserable & tragic but I wonder how they managed to pass through it all. We can get some insight from the second Bishop of the Mission Headquarters of America, Bishop Masaharu Hashimoto, who wrote in his diary “Nankin Roku Nen” (Six years of Confinement) and his autobiography “Shogyo,” about the severe situation in the camp at that time. In the book, “Hawaii no Akebono,” about Sakujiro & Tsuji Ueno, on page 86, allow me to borrow and read one section that gives such a description.

(Unofficial translation) Life while in detention, being provided with food, clothing & shelter was supposed to be guaranteed like a life in heaven but in actuality, it was like being in hell. It was unavoidable that both body as well as spirit of the people was forced into a life of imprisonment. Many fellow internees harbored immeasurable grudges inside their hearts and passed away while being detained behind those barbed wire fences. Also, those that became mentally ill were sent to a hospital in the State of Kentucky. Those that were kept within the confines of the camp for a long time, though they did not realize it, were definitely affected with psychological problems. Yet, within all these suffering, there were those that persevered and endured by diligently reading literature and doing research and this was all possible due to their strong faith. Surely, I believe that this was due to the unlimited blessing of God the Parent and Oyasama.”

Such an explanation was written in the book. From this short excerpt alone, we can get a glimpse of life while in detention and grasp the harshness of such a life.

My husband’s father, the first head minister of Honolulu-ko Church, was one of those who experienced life in detention. But during his life he hardly talked about the severe times of being in detention and only to those in his own family circle, I heard that he would say, “I was not treated too badly.” But, just by the fact that he chose not to speak about it, tells me how great the suffering must have been. Next, I would like to talk about the situation on December 7th and read an excerpt from the “50 Year History of Tenrikyo Hawaii Dendocho.”

“On December 7, 1941, the Japanese Navy attacked Pearl Harbor and that day was full of confusion in the city. In the evening around 10 p.m., a Caucasian person and a second generation Japanese FBI person came to the church and told the head minister that he had to go to the Immigration Office and thus was taken away. After that, the church was closed for four years and leaving his wife and three children back, the head minister was interned in the camp on the mainland. At the church, six family members lived and worked together and took care of the church during his absence. They had to deal with being looked down upon and despised as foreigners of an enemy country and they had to tolerate being prejudiced against, but the followers kept their spirits up and applied their efforts sincerely. In 1945, the head minister was released and returned home.”

Leaving Japan and going to Hawaii as missionaries, they barely got started when the war began suddenly and at the same time, causing them to be arrested. It was unavoidable that they were forced to live in a detention camp on the mainland and they probably did not even dream that such a situation could ever happen. Again, the wives, family, and followers who were left back in Hawaii had to go through much suffering. There was severe persecution by the authorities and the church was forced to close its doors, which caused the members to suddenly stop coming. Even in such a situation, everyone desperately protected God and the church. When the ministers returned back to Hawaii, they had to start over again from nothing. When I think of the suffering of these people, I become overwhelmed with emotion.

Yet, despite having to go through such harsh conditions back in those days, I believe that it is because the predecessors diligently strove to lean on God the Parent and focus on Oyasama's protection, that we have the path we have in Hawaii today! The following excerpt from page 58 of the Doctrine teaches, "to understand that all occurrences are from the will of God the Parent, and to live with joy and brightness without allowing our spirits to fall," gives us strong support to our spirit and provides us with much needed encouragement. Personally, in my daily life, I sometimes waver in my efforts. But, when I think of the people who passed through during the wartime and the suffering they experienced, even though I may be feeling down and depressed, I become encouraged and change to a bright and positive mind. It is the legacy of such unseen and precious treasures, along with the joy of faith of the predecessors of the path, which I cherish and appreciate very much.

Thank you for your kind attention.

Dear Friends,

Continuing to focus on doing nioigake (sprinkling the fragrance of the teachings) to the community in unity, instead of working for the bottom line we were blessed with a steady stream of bazaar patrons despite the morning rain and the live broadcast of the Little League baseball Hawaii team competing for the World Series Championship. For the most part, we kept prices the same as last year. Booth heads continued to make strides in reaching out to friends, family and church members, to help at the bazaar resulting in requests for the new bazaar T-shirts totaling over 400!

Financial Report

Gross receipts: $48,389.78

Expenses: $27,563.34

Associations' Reports

BOYS & GIRLS ASSOCIATION

UNICEF

Last year over $1,200 were collected to help children around the world including disasters in Samoa, Philippines and Indonesia. This year UNICEF is racing against the clock to stop a second emergency in Pakistan. Malaria, diarrhea, and other water-borne diseases are spreading. For our Trick or Treat for UNICEF Fund drive in October, please support UNICEF in their work to relieve suffering to the children in these areas.

Make "Halloween Count!" means not only dress up in costumes and get candy, but also to use this occasion to help children in impoverished countries and to teach our children about helping others. This is our sincerity, our salvation work. Thank you!

BGA ACTIVITY GUIDELINES 2010

Under the slogan, "Let's connect children with our churches and nurture their sense of gratitude to God the Parent," the BGA has set the following goals:

1. Have all chapters conduct sleepovers at their churches
2. Promote hinokishin activities in every district.
3. Increase the number of association members participating in the Children's Pilgrimage to Jiba.

Hawaii chapter chair Rev. Owen Nakao requested that these goals be met at the church level where possible.
